President's Message

With each publication of the Farm Fresh Guide, we discover new farms and new farmers; some are listed on the facing page. It's heartening to know that folks are still finding ways to make agriculture a viable life's work. Some have recently discovered a love of farming, while others are taking more active roles on their family farms. No matter how they came to it, our new farmers embrace our common goal: to bring the healthiest, most wholesome, and sustainably produced local food and farm products to your table.

Local is truly what makes BC Farm Fresh producers unique. We grow and raise real food in your community. We invite you to meet us at our farm gate to see where your food comes from and to experience the difference that 'harvested at the peak of perfection' makes. We offer tours and events that give you and the young people in your life a glimpse of life on the farm; be sure to visit BCFarmFresh.com for a detailed calendar of happenings. We come to your neighbourhoods through your local Farmers Markets (Featured Farmers Markets, page 10). BC Farm Fresh farmers want to get to know you. And we want you to get to know your farmer.

In so many ways, it's never been easier to understand where your food comes from. Many farms share their day-to-day updates on Facebook and Instagram. We collect these posts @BCFarmFresh to help you discover fresh harvests, recipes, and agri-adventures near you. Follow us, like us, and share us online!

We hope you'll spend a little time with BC Farm Fresh growers and producers this season. We look forward to your visits and to feeding your family the freshest food you can find.

Family owned and operated since 1960, Willow View Farms offers fresh fruit and vegetables directly from our farm. Our u-pick apple orchard and country store open in mid-August and provide families an opportunity to experience the local harvest. We grow 20 varieties of apples, as well as plums and pears. Our store is stocked with home grown apples, potatoes, corn, squash and gourds, as well as local pies, honey, jams and more. Fresh pressed apple cider and apple cider slushies draw folks from near and far. Hayrides run the last two weekends of September and every weekend in October. Explore the pumpkin patch, where we grow more than 50 varieties of pumpkins from one to 200 pounds. Our petting zoo, playground and picnic area are set up and open until October 31. No general admission. OPEN seasonally. Please visit our website for up to date hours and u-pick timetable and prices.

LEPP FARM MARKET

Lepp Farm Market is the fulfillment of Rob & Charlotte Lepp's shared passion for farming and a long-held dream of being able to continue the tradition of a family-run farm.

We connect the community with as many locally sourced products as possible and to inspire everyone to prepare them in simple and delicious ways. Because after all, good food, good laughter and bountiful crops are always Better when shared.

Come visit our family owned and operated third-generation farm! Our cattle are forage grass raised and finished on a diet of Non-GMO corn and grain here on our farm. Our beef is antibiotic & steroid free and is dry-aged 28 days in our butcher shop. Smoked hams and a wide variety of house-made deli items—from sandwich meats, sausages, pepperoni, jerky, and bacon—line our shelves. Be sure to ask about our gluten and nitrite-free items! We grow a variety of produce including sweet corn, cranberries, and tayberries. We're all about supporting local and this can be seen in our selection of chicken, pork, produce and artisan foods. We pride ourselves on excellent customer service and a knowledgeable and welcoming staff. Come dine at our farm-to-plate bistro, serving classic favourites made with farm-fresh ingredients! Know your farmer. Know your food. OPEN year round. See our website for weekly specials, hours of operation, and events such as longtable dinners, Meet The Farmer Day, and cooking classes.

Ralph's Farm Market

Our family market, sourcing local since 1982.

Our family market has grown steadily over the years.

Ralph's Farm Market is conveniently located on Fraser Highway in Langley B.C. near our family farm. We not only grow blueberries and corn right here in our fields, but also have been the Fraser Valley's Okanagan connection to fresh produce over the last 36 years. You may even remember our stand we once had at Granville Island from 1982 - 2004. What started as a seasonal hay wagon in 1991, on Fraser Hwy in Langley, has grown to a year 'round 11,000 square foot market. Throughout the years as we've grown, some things have changed, but many stay the same. We are committed to growing our family business through exceptional customer care and providing the community with healthy choices, while supporting local as much as possible. Enjoy selections at our market such as fresh produce, deli, bakery, bistro, meat shoppe, grocery including a variety of organic, vegan and gluten free alternatives. From time to time you might find a food truck parked outside of our market and in the Spring, enjoy the Plant Place Nursery's selections as well. We share our day to day happenings on our Facebook & Instagram pages, stay tuned to find out the latest arrivals or upcoming events at our market!
